- Best Value university by Kiplinger's
- No. 14 Best Online Bachelor's Program by U.S. News & World Report

START YOUR BSN WHILE AN ASN STUDENT

Students enrolled in an Associate of Science in Nursing* (ASN) program at any Florida College System institution may apply for UCF's fully online concurrent program after completing their first semester in the ASN program.

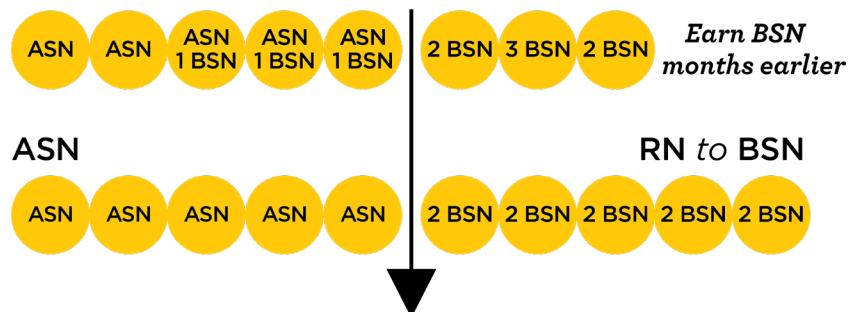

*or Associate Degree in Nursing (ADN)

HOW IT WORKS — WHY WAIT?

Students will complete three of UCF's BSN courses online while enrolled in an articulated Florida ASN program (one course per semester). Clinical experiences for the final practicum course can be fulfilled in the student's local community.

After earning the ASN degree, students will take the RN license exam (NCLEX) and complete UCF's remaining BSN courses online. Students will earn the BSN degree months earlier than with a traditional RN to BSN program.
