Adjunct Instructor, Nursing (Orlando and Cocoa Campus)

Job Summary/Basic Function:

The Department of Nursing Practice within the College of Nursing at the University of Central Florida (UCF) seeks to increase its pool of adjunct faculty who are appointed on a semester-by-semester basis.

We are seeking adjunct faculty to teach clinical courses in Essentials of Nursing Practice, Nursing Care of Families, Nursing Care Adult I & II, and Health Promotion Across the Lifespan.

Location:

These positions are for the UCF Orlando or UCF Cocoa campuses. Applicants also must be available to teach face-to-face courses at one of our clinical partner sites.

About the UCF College of Nursing:

The UCF College of Nursing offers academic excellence from the baccalaureate to the doctorate in Central Florida and beyond with traditional classroom and online programs. Our programs are accredited and continually recognized among the nation's best not only for academic excellence, grounded in evidence-based practice, but also a best value. Our students are high-achievers who consistently surpass national averages on the NCLEX-RN and national nurse practitioner certification exams.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Earned Master of Nursing degree from an accredited institution or Bachelor of Science in Nursing from an accredited institution with at least 18 successfully completed graduate level hours in nursing by date of hire.
- One year full-time clinical experience as a licensed RN.
- Florida residency and an RN license issued by the state of Florida required by the start date.
- Recent clinical nursing experience (within past 5 years).

Preferred Qualifications:

- Earned doctorate in nursing or related field from an accredited institution by date of hire.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

Clinical hours and schedules may vary based on the course and clinical site.

Hourly Rate:

Per college guidelines.
